ABBOT'S REPORT

Use this human life to wake up. This means whatever qualities you have, whatever your kamma is... stop complaining! That means stop complaining about all the little things in life... its too cold, you have to go to work and you have to cook dinner... I have to do the washing... because this is the practice and the way to true happiness to start to accept the small challenges in life as the process of living.

So if there is a mess, just clean it up. If you are cold then warm yourself up. If you are hungry eat! This builds powerful habit of not complaining and doing what is needed. Try it for one week and you will find you will be a happier person.

You can choose to be happy in one moment but just dropping the complaining mind and being happy with what you have got.

With metta from Anita Carter

UN VERSAK FUNDRAISING DINNER

On the 18th of April 2009, a UN Day of Vesak Fundraising Dinner was held at Happy Receptions in Ascot Vale. The event was held in a well-lit open dinning area. The environment was welcoming and all felt at ease. Venerable Monks and Members from twelve temples attended.

The night proceedings began with a video presentation of Buddhist youth in Victoria. Our Members Adam Richards, Tanya Poynton and Bodhi White were some of the youths who were interviewed for this video.

There are five managers of the different aspects of the United Nations day of Vesak. They each gave a speech on the progression of the events and proceedings they are managing. A generous vegetarian dinner was served to all. Rachael Wass

CHAN EXHIBITION

Chan Academy Australia will be holding its second annual Chan Painting exhibition this year in June. It is great fortune that Melba is well enough to produce another series of masterpieces.

Jan Bennet will be contributing his masterpieces to the exhibition again and student work will also be exhibited. A great opportunity for all.

This years exhibition is entitled 'Renewal'. As nature grows and renews so does the Chan Painter. This title 'Renewal' was inspired by how nature has recovered from the devastation of the bush fires and the energy of growth and renewal as nature springs back to life, green and refreshing.

All Chan students are invited to produce a painting. Seeing students work bring great joy to the teachers and helps the Chan Academy realise its aims.

THE LOTUS BY MELBA NIELSEN

The exhibition will be held at Burringja again in the Jarmbi Gallery, 3rd June to the 22nd June. Exhibition Opening will be on Sunday 7th June from 1pm – 3pm.

We offer a very sincere thank you to all those who make this exhibition possible.

MOTHERS DAY FLOWER STALL

Our next flower stall will be conducted on Mothers Day, 10 May 2009, and we expect to make about $1,800 profit from this one fundraising event.

It will be held at the front of Carrington Park Reserve Ferntree Gully Road, Scoresby, between the Bunnings store and Harley Street.

As the flower stall will be conducted the day after the United Nations Day of Versak we wish to do our planning for the event in the next 2 weeks to give Members plenty of notice. Please see Adam to advise him if you can help out on Mothers' Day and your preferred time.

CAMBERWELL MARKET STALL

If Members have any suitable second-hand items, please call Frank or Sue.
